The Story of the Coup d'État.

By M. DE MAUPAS, Prefect of Police. Translated, with Notes, by A. D. VANDAM. One vol., 12mo, cloth, $1.75.

"The author of the work was one of the leading actors, or rather managing directors, in the coup d'état, which, in December, 1852, placed Louis Napoleon on the throne of France. In order that he might more effectually assist in that desperate stroke, he was, at his own request, appointed to the prefecture of police. To him, therefore, fell the task of arranging for the arrest of such of the Deputies as were likely to give trouble, and he relates with something like pride how perfectly he succeeded in accomplishing his purpose. The most astonishing feature of the book is the cynical frankness with which he relates the particulars of the plot. Nothing is withheld, and nothing is regretted. . . . The history of one of the greatest outrages on public liberty ever perpetrated by a set of desperate adventurers is now for the first time given to the world, with a fulness of detail which M. de Maupas was alone able to furnish. The notes of the editor are judiciously interspersed, and are useful in recalling facts to which no more than passing allusion is made in the text."—The Bookseller.

II.

Prose Writings of William Cullen Bryant.

Edited by PARKE GODWIN. In two vols., square 8vo, cloth, gilt top, $6.

Vol. I. ESSAYS, TALES, AND ORATIONS.

Vol. II. TRAVELS, ADDRESSES, AND COMMENTS.

These two volumes complete the Memorial Edition of the Life and Works of Bryant. The preceding volumes are:

A Biography of William Cullen Bryant,

With Extracts from his Private Correspondence. By PARKE GODWIN. With two portraits on steel: one from a painting by Morse, taken in 1825, and one from a photograph taken in 1873. In two vols., square 8vo, cloth, gilt top, $6.

The Poetical Works of William Cullen Bryant.

Edited by PARKE GODWIN. In two vols., square 8vo, cloth, gilt top, $6.

This very handsome edition of the works of Bryant is a noble monument to the memory of the poet. It will be appreciated by all admirers of Bryant, and all who delight in choice editions of standard books.

NOTES IN SEASON.

GEORGE A. LEAVITT & Co. call the attention of the trade to the announcement that the sale of the stock of E. Claxton & Co. has been postponed until June 10.

D. APPLETON & Co. will publish at once "The Story of the Coup d'État," by M. de Maupas, already described in the WEEKLY, and the "Prose Writings of William Cullen Bryant," edited by Parke Godwin, in two volumes. The latter complete the Memorial edition of the life and works of Bryant.

FORDS, HOWARD & HULBERT have just ready Orpheus C. Kerr's new novel, "There was Once a Man," which forms vol. 6 of Our Continent Library; also, "A Palace-Prison, or, The Past and the Present," a peculiar book which will no doubt give rise to considerable comment. They have also published a new edition of the "Reminiscences of an Idler," by the late Chevalier Wikoff. The volume contains a portrait and is issued at a reduced price.

WM. S. GOTTSBERGER has just ready "Clytia: a Romance of the XVIth Century," by George Taylor, translated by Mary J. Safford. The London Saturday Review, in noticing the German edition of this work, says: "If report may be trusted 'George Taylor,' though writing in German, is an Englishman by race, and not merely by the assumption of a pseudonym. The statement is countenanced by the general physiognomy of his novels, which manifest the artistic qualities in which German fiction, when extending beyond the limits of a short story, is usually deficient. 'Antinous' was a remarkable book. 'Clytia' displays the same talent, and is, for obvious reasons, much better adapted for general circulation. It is an excellent novel from every point of view, and, like 'Antinous,' gives evidence of superior culture and thoughtfulness."

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. will publish early in June a new story entitled "Phoebe," by the author of "Rutledge," an American story in locality and character, and while there is nothing particularly exciting or extraordinary in the plot and incidents, the story is told with so much spirit that it cannot fail to enlist the interest, even of jaded novel-readers. At the same time will appear "The American Horsewoman," by Elizabeth Karr, who has prepared an exceedingly minute and careful manual on the subject of selecting and managing a horse, and all the details of dress and equipments necessary to make one a skilful and graceful rider; and a volume entitled "Summer," selected from the journals of H. D. Thoreau by Mr. H. G. O. Blake, who is Thoreau's literary executor. The selections are in general character quite like those in "Early Spring in Massachusetts," and are so distinctly marked with the characteristics of Thoreau's manner of thought and expression, that the book will be welcomed heartily by his large circle of admirers.

THE CENTURY COMPANY have just ready a new collection of hymns by Dr. Charles Robinson, entitled "Laudes Domini: Spiritual Songs, Ancient and Modern." This collection is not published with the intention of superseding the other hymn-books compiled by Dr. Robinson, but rather of supplementing them. This book is designed to lead the taste of congregations and choirs toward a higher class of lyrics and music than has hitherto found acceptance in the churches. To this end a large selection from the great wealth of newer hymns and modern American, English, and German choral music has been included with the best of the old and familiar hymns and standard tunes in common use. The book contains nearly 650 musical selections, more than one third of which have not appeared in any of Dr. Robinson's former books. All, or nearly all, the great musical composers are here represented. It is beautifully printed on thin paper of superior quality (so as to be light in the hand), and is elegantly bound in full dark red leather, with terra-cotta edges, and semi-flexible covers with round corners.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. A colon after initial designates the most usual given name as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tt. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obli., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

Allen, W. Francis. History topics for the use of high schools and colleges. Bost., Ginn, Heath & Co., 1883. 121 p. sq. S. pap., net, 25 c.

Two sets of topics are presented—the first for general dynastic and territorial history, the second for the history of the United States. The first is in thirty divisions, forming sub-periods in a chronological sequence. In American history the chronological order is not so strictly observed, and the divisions (50) are much smaller. At the end of each division will be found indicated the maps, the genealogical tables, etc., which will be most useful for that period. In an appendix is given a classified list of those books which are considered most serviceable in connection with this method.

Bayles, Ja. C. House drainage and water service in cities, villages, and rural neighborhoods; with incidental consideration of causes affecting the healthfulness of dwellings. 5th ed. N. Y., D: Williams, 1884. 1+360 p. il. and plans, O. cl., $3.

Beale, Stephen. Profitable poultry keeping; ed. with additions by Mason C. Weld. N. Y., G: Routledge & Sons, [1884]. 258 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.

Mr. Weld says: "I esteem it a privilege and a pleasure to introduce this excellent hand-book to all who are practically interested in keeping poultry." It opens with some general considerations, followed by chapters on, who should keep poultry; laying out of the poultry-yard; poultry houses; the kind of fowls to keep; the breeds of poultry; cross-bred poultry; ducks; geese and turkeys; the selection of stock birds; hatching; artificial incubation; food and feeding; early eggs and chickens; the preparation of table fowls; the diseases of poultry, etc.

Bianciardi, Mrs. E. D. R. At home in Italy. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1884. 3-300 p. D. cl., $1.25.

Mrs. Bianciardi writes of Italy from a long residence there, and aims to correct the many erroneous views readers may have obtained of it through the superficial judgments of the ordinary traveller. To an attractive style she adds much practical information which makes her book a very desirable one for the general reader or the prospective tourist. "Italy as a residence," "The city of the winds," "A mountain excursion in the province of Siena," "Summer days in Perugia," "An Italian watering-place," "A week in northern Italy," "An April day on the Consuma Pass," "A Florentine family in the fifteenth century," "Camaldoli," and "Vallombrosa" are the topics treated, with a graceful wealth of detail.

Blackmore, R. D. The remarkable history of Sir Thomas Upmore, Bart., M.P., formerly known as "Tommy Upmore." N. Y., Harper, 1884. 63 p. Q. (Harper's Franklin sq. lib., no. 378.) pap., 20 c.

Quaintly told story of the adventures of a young man who possessed the rare qualification of knowing how to fly. Scene laid in England in the early part of the century. By the author of "Lorna Doone," etc.

Bloxam, C. L. Chemistry, inorganic and or-

Carnegie, Andrew. Round the world. N. Y., C: Scribner's Sons, 1884. 7+360 p. O. cl., $2.50.

Like "An American four-in-hand in Britain," this work was originally printed for private circulation, but from the very general request made for it outside of friends, it has been given to the general public. It is written in the same cheerful, breezy way that made the first work of the author so pleasing. It includes a description of a trip from New York to San Francisco, thence to Japan; here Mr. Carnegie spent the larger portion of his time, and gives a very full account of the country, its customs, etc.

Cicero, Marcus Tullius. Somnium Scipionis; ed. by W. D. Pearman. N. Y., Macmillan, 1883. 6+56 p. S. (Pitt press ser.) cl., net, 50 c.

Clark, Mrs. S. R. Graham. The triple E. Bost., D. Lothrop & Co., [1884]. 3-326 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.

The heroine's initials are the "triple E," and are used throughout the book in forming complimentary adjectives applied to her by her younger sister. The picture of life presented is a sad one, being a realistic sketch of life in the mills where these two young girls obtain work. The hard crustiness covering the warm heart of their best woman friend is humorously drawn. Love and marriage play no small part in the life of "triple E."

Coues, Elliott, M.D. Key to North American birds; containing a concise account of every species of living and fossil bird at present known, from the continent north of the Mexican and United States boundary inclusive of Greenland. 2d ed., revised to date and entirely rewritten; with which are incorporated, "General ornithology:" an outline of the structure and classification of birds; and "Field ornithology:" a manual of collecting, preparing and preserving birds. Bost.,

* In this list, the titles generally are verbatim transcriptions (according to the rule of the American Library Association) from books received. Books not received are indicated by a prefixed asterisk, and this office cannot be held responsible for the correctness of their record. This list will be reprinted, verbatim, with all the notices of the books received, in the TRADE LIST ANNUAL.

Estes & Lauriat, 1884. 29+863 p. il. O. cl., $10; hf. mor., $13.50.

The original edition of the "Key," published in 1872, has been for some years out of print. The present edition is conceived in the same spirit as the former one, and to fulfil the same purpose. It has been entirely rewritten, and is quite another work, though the old title is preserved. From the great progress made in knowledge during the past twelve years the classification and nomenclature are materially different; the descriptions are much more elaborate, and are freed from the unnecessary reference to authorities, the space thus gained being utilized by introducing terse biographical items, with special reference to nests and eggs, song, flight, habits, etc. The "Field ornithology" now incorporated was published as a separate treatise in 1874. "General ornithology" is the introductory matter of the old "Key," greatly amplified. By the use of smaller type, a more closely printed page, and thinner paper, the author estimates that he has compressed into the present volume four times the matter of the original edition. The work remains an exceedingly handsome one, with many additional cuts, and all that could be desired in point of mechanical execution, paper, etc.

Crawford, F. Marion. A Roman singer. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1884. 378 p. D. cl., $1.25.

The love of a young Italian tenor, with its various obstacles and disappointments before it comes to a happy ending, for the daughter of a Prussian officer is the theme of this novel. It is chiefly notable for the very agreeable methods of the author in relating it, and the amount of local color he puts into it. The scene is Rome, and the story is told by an old Italian who is an odd compound of childlike innocence and worldly wisdom. His wise, quaint sayings are the gems of the book. Has just completed its course in the Atlantic Monthly, where it found many readers who conceded it evinced a care and polish in style far ahead of "Mr. Isaacs" and "Dr. Claudius," though not of "To Leeward."

Dawson, S. E. A study; with critical and explanatory notes of Lord Tennyson's poem, the "Princess." 2d ed. Montreal, Dawson Bros., 1884. 15+120 p. D. cl., $1.25.

This edition includes an interesting letter from Lord Tennyson to the author, expressing much pleasure with the essay, and throwing light upon the poet's manner and method of working.

History of state and national debts, and of the most flagrant instances of "repudiation," especially during the late war, a partial black list of the states so dishonored being given.

Hatton, Jos. Henry Irving's impressions of America; narrated in a series of sketches, chronicles, and conversations. Bost., Ja. R. Osgood & Co., 1884. 12+475 p. D. cl., $1.50.

After reading Mr. Hatton's very charming chronicle of the events of the tour of Irving and Ellen Terry, through this country, during the past season, one feels that he knows intimately this very talented and agreeable pair. Their adventures, conversations and opinions, especially upon dramatic art, and American life and manners, their badinage and witticisms have all been set down with a photographic fidelity that cannot but prove fascinating to all who care for this kind of reading, and who have strong interests in actors and acting. Mr. Hatton plays throughout the part of reporter, giving in full all speeches, remarks, and so on. From the opening night at the "Star," with "The Bells," to the closing scenes of "Much Ado About Nothing," no detail of this tour, exceptional both in its financial and artistic features, is omitted.

Hopkins, Mahetible [pseud.]. Mahetible Hopkins and her travels; il. by H. E. Patterson. Denver & Chicago, W. H. Lawrence & Co., 1884. 4-247 p. il. D. cl.

The amusing adventures of Mrs. Mahetible Hopkins, who inherits the large fortune of $1800, and goes out to see the world; she travels through the United States and Canada and has some broadly laughable incidents happen to her and numerous "tribulations and other difficulties," which she describes in a racy, quaint Yankee dialect that is exceedingly funny.

*Horwitz, Orville, M.D. A compend of surgery; including fractures, wounds, dislocations, sprains, amputations and other operations; inflammation, suppuration, ulcers, syphilis, tumors, shock, etc.; diseases of the spine, ear, eye, bladder, testicles, anus, and other surgical diseases. Phil., P. Blakiston, Son & Co., 1884. il. S. (Quiz-compend, no. 9.) cl., $1; interleaved, $1.25.

Howells, W. D. Three villages. Bost., Ja. R. Osgood & Co., 1884. 6-198 p. Q. cl., $1.25.

Gracefully written descriptions and reminiscences of three American communities—Lexington, a typical New England village; Shirley, the Shaker community, and the Moravian town of Gnadenhütten, once the scene of a thrilling tragedy.

Huntington, L. S. Professor Conant: a story of English and American social and political life. N. Y., R. Worthington, 1884. 6+291 p. D. cl., $1.25.

The descriptions of life and manners and the discussions on governments occupy a greater part of this book than the story proper, though the story itself is quite an interesting one dealing with several love affairs, a lost child, a trip across the Atlantic, a shipwreck and other equally thrilling incidents. The chief character, Professor Conant, is a celebrated literary man and a member of Parliament, who comes to America for rest and recreation, bringing a jolly party with him. They visit Canada, Boston, New York, and are received with open arms. In all the various steps of their journey they discuss their surroundings—on the steamer they have learned discourses upon the dangers of ocean travel, in Canada they speak of the country and the government, and in America of free trade and protection, civil service reform and so on. It will be seen much is thus evolved that will interest others beside the ordinary novel-reader. The author is an "Honorable" and late Postmaster-General of Canada.

The chaplain of the Sailors' Snug Harbor, N. Y., tells his own life and conversion simply and instructively, and goes on to relate the various incidents of his ministry of more than half a century among "men who go down to the sea in ships." The stories of conversion are many and often very thrilling.

Intended primarily as a companion to Kellerman's "Elements of botany," but the analytical keys have been prefaced by enough descriptive botany to render it complete in itself, so that it may be used satisfactorily by those even who have no preliminary knowledge of the subject.

Kemble, Marion, ed. Art recreations: a guide to decorative art. [New ed.] Bost., S. W. Tilton & Co., [1884]. 7+442 p. il. D. cl., $2.

Has been almost entirely rewritten, greatly condensed, and much new matter added; includes instructions in painting with oil and water colors on silk, satin, plush, wood, etc.; landscape painting with oil and water colors; hammered brass, china, and pottery painting; tapestry painting, etching, illumination, oriental and Grecian painting, amateur photography, how to make Christmas and birthday cards, crayon and charcoal drawing, bronzing and gilding, etc.

Kittredge, A. O. The metal-worker's pattern-book: practical treatise on the art and science of pattern-cutting as applied to sheet metal work. 3d ed. N. Y., D. Williams, 1884. 3+242 p. il. Q. cl., $5.

Prepared from the mechanic's standpoint; each proposition is expressed and demonstrated in language which the average reader will have no difficulty in understanding.

In five divisions: 1. Definitions and technicalities, expressing the terms employed by draftsmen, architects and mechanics. 2. Drawing tools and materials, practical directions for those who wish to draw effectively in connection with any mechanical pursuit. 3. Geometrical problems. 4. The art and science of pattern-cutting, a theoretical exposition of the principles underlying the art of developing surfaces and describing the envelopes of solids. 5. Pattern problems, a collection of practical examples of work daily encountered by cornice workers and turners, and frequently met with by builders. Does not differ from previous editions in any way.

Three reviews that appeared originally in the London Quarterly Review, their aim being to examine, accurately and calmly, the exact amount of truth in some recent appeals of a socialistic nature made by prominent writers to popular sympathy. The first text is Henry George's book, "Progress and poverty," whose theories of rent, wages, and population the author vigorously refutes. The second essay, "Socialism in England," is based upon H. M. Hyndman's "England for all," and the last paper, "The statistics of agitation," upon a number of statistical documents from authentic sources, which offer strong proofs against many socialistic statements and deductions.

New York City sixty years ago is the scene of the prologue. In the opening chapter the story is carried forward twenty years, the scene changing to Singapore, in the East Indies. Here the web of the story becomes piquantly "international"—the best American and English social types coming together in a series of picturesque and unhackneyed scenes and adventures. Upon the texture of a poetic love-story are etched, incidentally, the strange and stirring acts in the career of the famous English Rajah Brooke of Borneo; whilst the character of a great Darwinian naturalist, who has visited the home of the orang-outang, to work out the problem of the "missing link," is brought forward. An enormous ape also comes into the plot and bears a strong part in working out the singular ending.

Newton, R. Heber. The book of the beginnings: a study of Genesis; with an introduction to the Pentateuch, N. Y., G. P. Putnam's Sons, 1884. 13+311 p. S. cl., $1.

The interrupted course of lectures that Dr. Newton, the rector of All Soul's Protestant Episcopal Church, began last winter, on Sunday afternoons in his church, and was requested by his Bishop to discontinue. His plan included a plain and popular account of the nature and contents of the first five books of the Old Testament, in the light of the new criticism. This little book embraces only the lectures delivered, the one on the Pentateuch being greatly amplified, but that on Genesis being reproduced almost as spoken.

The substance of a series of lectures on political economy delivered by the author at Cornell University. Mr. Roberts was for four years a member of the Committee of Ways and Means in Congress, and studied the whole subject of government revenue thoroughly. His lectures embody its history, theory and practice and a strong argument in favor of protection. The chapters deal separately with old world methods; modern practices abroad and at home; American methods and results; the incidence of imports; freedom of production; commerce broader than barter; fallacies about markets; duties, wages, and prices; alternatives of protection and the rivalries of commerce.

The account of the trip to Lake Superior fills more than one third of the volume; it is an interesting sketch of sporting adventure and sport; the remainder is taken up with descriptions of the various superior kinds of fish mentioned in the title and where to find them; there is also a section devoted to cookery for sportsmen.

Rowell & Co.'s (G. P.) American newspaper directory; containing accurate lists of all the newspapers and periodicals published in the United States, territories and Canada; with a description of the towns and cities in which they are published. 16th annual ed. N. Y., G. P. Rowell & Co., 1884. 1-1255 p. O. cl., $5.

It appears from this new ed. of the "American Newspaper Directory" that the newspapers and periodicals of all kinds, at present in the United States and Canada, reach a grand total of 13,302. This is a net gain of precisely 1500 during the last twelve months, and exhibits an increase of 5518 over the total number published just ten years since. The increase in 1874, over the total for 1873, was 493. During the past year, the dailies have increased from 1138 to 1254; the weeklies, from 906 to 10,028; and the monthlies, from 1091 to 1499. The greatest increase is in the Western States. Illinois, for instance, now shows 1009 papers, in place of last year's total of 904, while Missouri issues 604, instead of the 523 reported in 1883. Other leading Western States also exhibit a great percentage of increase. The total number of papers in New York State is 1523 against 1399 in 1883. Canada has shared in the general increase.

These facts and statistics aim to show that a protective tariff does not raise wages; given as an offset to Mr. Robert P. Porter's letters in the N. Y. Tribune, in which he presented a graphic picture of the distress of England under free trade, and of the prosperity of France and Germany under a protective tariff.

Not by Dumas; the anonymous author who continues a world-famous novel takes as a hero Esperance, the son of the Count of Monte Cristo, who is followed from boyhood to the close of his wonderful career. The Count of Monte Cristo and Haydee also have thrilling adventures, and Mercedes, Benedetto, Sanselme and Danglars, together with Fanfar, again appear.

Stirling, A. At daybreak: a novel. Bost., Ja. R. Osgood & Co., 1884. 316 p. S. cl., $1.25.

Two Danish-American families of a new type furnish the characters around which the events of the story revolve. Part of the action takes place in Denmark and part in a New England town. A pretty idyllic love story is the central motive. Very carefully written, and imbued with the poetry and fancy of a refined imagination. If from a new writer, betraying considerable promise.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

THE North American Review for June contains an article on "Walt Whitman," by Walker Kennedy, who, it seems, is anything but an admirer of the "good gray poet."

"FREDERICK OF HOHENSTAUFEN: The Boy Emperor," will be the subject of E. S. Brooks's paper, in his excellent series on "Historic Boys," in the June St. Nicholas.

THE editorial rooms and business offices of The American Queen have been removed to the corner of Broadway and Fourteenth Street (Domestic Building), Union Square, South.

THE second part of Herbert Spencer's article on "The Sins of Legislators," which is to be published in the Popular Science Monthly for June, contains a vigorous denunciation of protection, as being on one side a policy of aggression.

PRESIDENT ELIOT, of Harvard, discusses in the June Century the question, "What is a Liberal Education?" Among other things he makes a strong plea for the study of English, and in a historical review of the changes in university curricula shows what a hard fight was necessary to procure the introduction of Greek three centuries ago.

Junges Volk (Young Folks) is a new monthly for young people published in both the German and English languages, printed in parallel columns. It is illustrated and contains choice matter from German and English writers for children. The retail price is 10 cents per copy. Subscriptions may be placed with the agents, the New York News Co.

AMONG the prominent illustrations of the June number of the English Illustrated Magazine will be an engraving of Mrs. Siddons from Gainsborough's well-known picture in the English National Gallery, and a design by George Du Maurier under the title of "Der Tod als Freund." Mr. H. Sutherland Edwards contributes to the same number an interesting article on Drawing-Room Dances, with illustrations after Watteau and Hugh Thomson.

NOTES ON CATALOGUES.

GEORGE J. COOMBS, 5 E. 17th St., N. Y., has sent us five of his "catalogues of valuable, rare, and curious second-hand books in nearly every branch of American, English, and foreign literature," which it gives us pleasure to recommend to all lovers of good catalogues and choice books. The catalogues are gotten up in excellent taste, the typography being clear in every respect. The issue for January contains a fine selection of English and French poetry, comprising rare first editions of Byron, Shelley, Keats, Hunt, Wordsworth, Tennyson, and many others, also rare early editions of François Villon, Marot, Molière, Corneille, Racine, Hugo, Bandelaire, and others.

THE INTERNATIONAL NEWS CO., N. Y., have issued a "Descriptive Price-List of English Newspapers, Magazines and Periodicals," imported by them; also a wholesale price-list of German and French journals and publications for which they are agents in this country.

SECOND-HAND BOOKS.—American.—Received from W. B. Clark & Carruth, 340 Washington St., Boston: a brief list of works on the Civil War in the U. S. (4 p. 12°); also Leaflet No 32, giving a hand-list of the books issued during April (4 p. 12°).—From George D. Morse, Haverhill, Mass.: Catalogue (No 66) of Second-hand School-books (4 p. 2°).

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

MAY 24, 1884.

PUBLISHERS are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, to insure correctness in the final entry.

The trade are invited to send "Communications" to the editor on any topic of interest to the trade, and as to which an interchange of opinion is desirable. Also, matter for "Notes and Queries" gratefully received.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

COPYRIGHT AGAIN.

WE reprint elsewhere an editorial from last Sunday's Tribune, attacking our suggestion as to the Dorsheimer bill as "a trick of the piratical party," and dissenting from the view that such a first step will be better than nothing. We trust that the consistent record of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY since its beginning on the subject of international copyright is a sufficient answer to the insinuation the Tribune chooses to make. But we will again expressly say that we should heartily rejoice at the passage of the Dorsheimer bill, in which, as is shown by the replies in the WEEKLY of March 31, we are upheld by the great body of the trade, and that our support for that measure, or for any reasonable "first step" toward international copyright, will never be lacking. As to whether a modification of that bill is desirable, if the original bill is not likely to be passed, that is a matter on which opinions may fairly differ, but we fail to see why the Tribune should call names whenever it touches matters connected with publishers.

We fail to see also why "an international copyright law with the manufacturing clause attached to it is nothing but an arrangement for protecting one pirate against all rival pirates." Under any international copyright, or any kind of legal arrangement, the oldest and best known houses would undoubtedly have a certain advantage, as they have for the same reason an advantage in the domestic market. In the same way an old and well-known author has an advantage over new-comers, though the generally accepted American system of ten per cent royalty on sales operates in a most happy way to give young authors their fair chance if the public will only buy their books. Nevertheless younger houses have made their way into the book business, and by showing enterprise and vigor where older houses have relapsed into a natural conservatism, have made the latter look to their laurels. We cannot see that the manufacturing clause bears specially upon this point.

In behalf of authors, publishers, and public, we desire to see an international copyright law passed. We would like to see a better law than the Dorsheimer bill passed. If that can't be had, we should like to see the Dorsheimer bill passed. If that must be restricted, we should like to see a bill with a manufacturing clause passed. And we regret to see any obstruction against legislation of some sort, and still more any abuse of those willing to work in the direction of such legislation.

INTERNATIONAL COPYRIGHT.

THE DORSHEIMER COPYRIGHT BILL.

From the N. Y. Tribune, May 18.

THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY proposes that the authors and other friends of an honest copyright law, who have been supporting the Dorsheimer bill, should abandon their resistance to "a moderate manufacturing clause," and consent to an amendment confining the benefits of international copyright to books printed in this country. The reason assigned for recommending this surrender is that certain traders in Philadelphia and elsewhere are so hotly opposed to giving a foreigner his own property unless they can first make something out of it, and that the vested interest in literary piracy is so strongly represented in Congress, that "extreme views" are not at present likely to be adopted. Let the authors be reasonable, therefore, says the WEEKLY, and take what they can get. Hereafter they can ask more.

We hope that no friend of international copyright, of fair play, of international justice, will assent to any such proposal. The scheme of amendment now brought forward is what we have been expecting, ever since Mr. Dorsheimer's measure was introduced. We have been expecting it as a trick of the piratical party to turn to their own advantage a bill intended to remove a grave reproach from our country and to give authors their plain rights. An international copyright law with the manufacturing clause attached to it is nothing but an arrangement for protecting one pirate against all rival pirates. The United States has no reason for engaging in any such enterprise. It is better that piracy should not be protected. Let the unauthorized reprinters cut one another's throat, and by and by honest authors may come to their own. For this reason, among others, we wish to see no half-way delusive reform. We dissent entirely from the opinion of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY that the "first step" which it advises will be better than nothing, and will not interfere with something more valuable hereafter. This proposed "first step" is a step in the wrong direction; and if it is taken we shall have to begin the reform all over again with fresh obstacles against us. We shall create a new class of vested interests opposed to a true international copyright and increase the disinclination of the average Congressman to bother himself about a business which apparently does not touch politics. What is more, we shall give a quasi-sanction to piracy by statute. The worst that can be said of American law now is that it will not interfere to prevent a palpable wrong. But the moment it decrees that a wrong shall be treated as a wrong only under certain arbitrary conditions, it becomes an accomplice in the injustice.

The demand for international copyright is treated as a claim for authors. It is the claim if all men who love and understand justice, and are sensitive about national honor. We trust that there will be no compromise, no surrender, no faint-heartedness. If the Dorsheimer bill can be passed at this session, we shall rejoice. If it cannot, at least let us keep ourselves in a condition to try again, and the discussion of the past winter will not have been thrown away. This seems to be a case in which no bread is better than half a loaf.

A TRIBUTE TO FREDERICK LEYPOLDT.

From the London Bookseller, May 3.

It is with very deep regret we find ourselves called upon to announce the untimely death of our most able contemporary. Although Mr. Leypoldt was not the actual founder of trade bibliography in the United States, he succeeded, in spite of many difficulties, in bringing it to a state of perfection enormously beyond the point at which he found it. . . . The crowning effect of his industry was the issue, in two quarto volumes of nearly 1500 pages, of "The American Catalogue." This is the most enduring monument to Mr. Leypoldt's memory. It is unquestionably the finest trade catalogue ever published in English or any other language. In completeness both of matter and of arrangement, it is superior to any work of the kind with which we are acquainted, and yet this bibliographical chef d'œuvre yielded its projector nothing. "I am just saved from actual loss; but that is all," said Mr. Leypoldt, in a letter we received a year or two ago. Much more of Mr. Leypoldt's work was equally unremunerative. His PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, although most ably conducted, and the accepted organ of the American trade, struggled on for years without getting anything like the support it deserved and ought to have received. But even if it were the least profitable, Mr. Leypoldt never relaxed his efforts to make it the best journal of its kind, and was content to hope that sooner or later his efforts would be rewarded. Substantial prosperity did come at last, but it was not destined that he should live long to enjoy it. Mr. Leypoldt had many friends, and we doubt if he had an enemy. He was singularly modest, and was always more ready to proclaim the merits of others than to assert his own. He had a most fastidious sense of honor in all his business relations, and to the many expressions of regard called forth in the United States by the announcement of his death, we can add our own testimony to the worth of his accomplishments as a bibliographer, and to the merits of his private character.

In appearance, Mr. Leypoldt was the last person anybody would take for a studious bibliographer. We well remember our own incredulity when we first saw him. A slightly built man, scrupulously neat in his attire, who looked at us out of a pair of dark, lustrous eyes, and whose manner, at once gentle and vivacious, suggested anything but a disciple of Querard. The bright, intelligent look, and the quickly-changing, mobile features might have been those of a poet or a musician. Mr. Leypoldt was in fact both, but, like many other men, his path in life turned in a different direction to that toward which his early aspirations pointed.

THE BOOKSELLERS' AND STATIONERS' PROVIDENT ASSOCIATION.

At the last meeting of the Board of Trustees the following named applicants were elected to membership:

John R. Anderson, New York.
J. W. Carroll, Jr., New York.
J. H. Chilver, New York.
J. F. Clouan, New York.
W. O. Davie, Cincinnati.
David L. Davis, Brooklyn.
Joseph F. Day, New York.
R. M. Donaldson, New York.
J. B. Flersheim, Chicago.
G. F. Finn, New York.
W. G. Hall, New York.
C. M. Hartt, New York.
C. K. Locking, New York.
Thos. Mulroney, Chicago.
R. J. Palmer, New York.
J. H. Rooney, New York.
C. F. Walter, New York.
C. E. Wentworth, Cambridge, Mass.
C. Wilderman, New York.

The fifth annual meeting of the Booksellers' and Stationers' Provident Association will be held at the Trade Sale Rooms of Messrs. George A. Leavitt & Co., on Wednesday, June 4, 1884, at 8 P.M. It is hoped that every member will be present.

J. A. HOLDEN, Secretary.

THE PRINTERS' INTERNATIONAL SPECIMEN EXCHANGE.

AMENDED RULES.

I.—THE annual subscription to the Printers' International Specimen Exchange is one shilling, which may be remitted in postage stamps of any denomination.

II.—Members must be practical letterpress or lithographic printers; managers of printing offices, compositors, pressmen, or apprentices—any number from one house—are eligible, but no individual subscriber may send more than one contribution.

III.—The specimens produced for the Specimen Exchange must be from the hands of the subscriber or his workmen; trade work—i.e., work done by one printer for another—cannot be admitted.

IV.—Three hundred and seventy-five copies of any job, all alike, printed on quarto demy, 11½ x 8½ inches—single sheets, worked one or both sides, with full imprint of each contributor, are to be sent in not later than the last day of January in each year, carriage paid, addressed to the editor of The Paper and Printing Trades Journal, 50 Leadenhall Street, London, E. C., by every subscriber, who will receive in return 350 specimens, all different. The 25 extra impressions allowed for spoiling in pressing, collating, etc., and also for a few special press copies. American, colonial, and foreign contributions should be forwarded (packed between boards) at a somewhat earlier date.

V.—Contributions short in number (375) will be rejected unless made up. Contributions smaller or larger than the sizes fixed by rule 4—11½ x 8½—and specimens printed on cardboard cannot be admitted.

VI.—Contributions in the nature of advertisements of printing machinery or materials, etc.—either in the job itself or in the imprint—cannot be admitted.

VII.—For the protection of subscribers, the editor reserves the right of rejecting specimens which he may consider unsuitable, and as acceptance of contributions depends as much on mechanical execution as tasteful display, it is obviously impossible for the editor to judge of the suitability of a job merely from the submission of a rough proof. Notices of rejection will be given privately.

Should the number of contributors to the Exchange exceed 350—of which there is every indication—the specimens latest in arriving will necessarily have to stand over for insertion in the succeeding volume.

All communications relating to the above should be addressed to Messrs. Field & Tuer, 50 Leadenhall Street, London, Eng.

OBITUARY.

WILLIAM RADDE.

WILLIAM RADDE, senior member of the firm of Radde & Son, died at his residence on the 19th inst. He was born in Berlin, September 27, 1800, and came to this city in 1833. His trade was that of a printer, and he served in that capacity in Paris and London. Radde, shortly after he arrived here, entered the drug business, and manufactured and sold the first homœopathic medicines in this country. In connection with this, he published a large list of homœopathic publications and other literature, principally reprints of the standard German chap-books, or Räuber geschichten. Of late years Mr. Radde has not been actively engaged in the book business. He was a public-spirited, kindly man, and a devoted, staunch friend. He was one of the founders and trustees of the Homœopathic Hospital.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

MRS. PIERRE LORILLARD, JR., is credited with the authorship of the novel, "Those Pretty St. George Girls," recently published by T. B. Peterson & Bros.

REV. EDWARD C. TOWNE is at work on the final revision of his treatise on "The Electrical and Magnetic Causes of Fire, Light, Life, Function, Structure, and Species."

LORD ROWTON, it is said, finds his work of producing the memoirs of Lord Beaconsfield very difficult. The papers are enormous in number, and absolutely without order or arrangement. Lord Beaconsfield seems to have kept everything in the shape of letters, disposing of them by the easy process of thrusting them into a large box.

BUSINESS NOTES.

ATHENS, O.—Kurtz & Minear, booksellers, have sold out to Putnam & Fletcher.

CHICAGO, Ill.—George P. Sexton, bookseller and stationer, has removed his store to 140 N. Clark St.

GLENS FALL, N. Y.—P. P. Bradley & Co. booksellers and stationers, were burned out on the 28th inst.

MEDICINE LODGE, Kan.—W. D. & D. Van Slyke, booksellers, have sold out to C. E. Wain-scott.

NEWBURYPORT, MASS.—H. Cook, Jr., bookseller and stationer, is advertising to sell out.

OWENSBORO, Ky.—George & Walter Parrish, booksellers, stationers, etc., have been succeeded by George & Otis Parrish.

PHILADELPHIA.—E. S. Hand & Co., publishers' agents, have dissolved partnership. E. C. Stokes and H. T. Pearce have formed a new firm under the style of E. C. Stokes & Co.

SACO, ME.—H. B. Kendrick & Co., booksellers and stationers, have dissolved partnership. Mrs. C. K. Burns continues the business under the old style.

SEDALIA, Mo.—Ferrell & Fellows, booksellers, have dissolved partnership. The firm is now Ferrell & Muir.

YOKOHAMA, JAPAN.—Sargent, Farsari & Co., booksellers and stationers, have dissolved partnership. The business is continued by A. Farsari & Co., who assume the liabilities of the late firm.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

C. H. WHITING has become the New England agent for H. A. Sumner & Co., of Chicago.

J. H. VAIL, of J. H. Vail & Co., will visit England and France during the coming summer.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will publish shortly a new novel by "J. S. of Dale," the author of "Guernedale." It will be entitled "Henry Vane."

ZELL'S CLASSIFIED UNITED STATES BUSINESS DIRECTORY for 1884 is now ready. The work is compiled under the supervision of L. De Colange.

A. D. F. RANDOLPH & Co. will have ready early in June the first volume of the reprint of "The Life and Times of Jesus the Messiah," by Alfred Edersheim, D.D., to be followed early in July by the second volume, completing the work.

THE BOSTON SCHOOL SUPPLY CO. (John A. Boyle, manager) have just ready "Methods of Teaching Geography," by Lucretia Crocker, Supervisor of Public Schools, Boston, also, a "Bible History for Catholic Schools," written by a sister of Mercy.

R. R. DONNELLY & SONS, Lakeside Press, Chicago, will publish early in June an illustrated work by Edward S. Roberts, descriptive of the great Southwest and Northern Old Mexico. Particular attention is given to Arizona and to Guaymas, Mexico.

JAMES H. EARLE has just ready a novel entitled "Why? or, Tried in the Crucible," by Mrs. D. S. Sherwin. The book has a purely religious character, and is made up of a "record of experiences and providences which test the soul and try the steadfastness of faith."

MISS GREATOREX, whose talents as a painter of flowers are fully recognized, has recently completed a study of chrysanthemums for Mr. L. Prang, as companion to the hollyhocks which he purchased after the last Water-Color Exhibition. They are specially adapted for studies for advanced students.

G. H. ELLIS has just ready, "Beethoven's Nine Symphonies," by Dr. George Grove, editor of the "Dictionary of Music," containing illustrations from the scores. These analytical essays, by one of the most eminent musical authorities, are designed not only for students but for the general reader also.

T. B. PETERSON & BROS. will publish shortly a new pocket edition of "The Game of Euchre and Draw Poker," by the Hon. R. C. Schenk. It will contain, in addition to many valuable hints, a compendium of the laws and practice of each game. These rules are accepted as the standard, and are adopted by all the principal clubs.

ROBERT CARTER & BROS. announce a new story by Mrs. O. F. Walton, entitled "Shadows;" "Sea Gull's Nest," a story by Emily Brodie; "Left to Ourselves," by Catherine Shaw; a sketch of "John de Wycliffe," by Emily S. Holt; "In Wycliffe's Days," by Grace Stebbing; and "Joyful through Hope," an anonymous story.

MACMILLAN & Co. announce that the first volume of the complete library edition of Tennyson's works will appear in June. As already noted, the work will be in seven volumes, to be issued monthly. A limited edition on handmade paper will also be printed, to be sold only in sets at $2.60 a volume, the ordinary edition being sold at $1.25 a volume.

D. APPLETON & Co. will publish in June a new novel by Dr. W. A. Hammond, entitled "Lal: a Tale of Colorado," not the least interesting feature of this novel is that portion relating to the education of woman, and her ability to cultivate a science, even though it may present repulsive aspects, without losing the delicacy and refinement that belong to her.

THE ORANGE JUDD Co. have just ready a timely work entitled "Superior Fishing; or, The Striped Bass, Trout, Black Bass, and Blue-Fish of the Northern States," embracing full directions for dressing artificial flies with the feathers of American birds, an account of a sporting visit to Lake Superior, etc., by Robert B. Roosevelt. The book is fully illustrated.

L. R. HAMMERSLEY & Co., Philadelphia, have just ready "The Church Cyclopædia," edited by Rev. Prof. A. A. Benton, who was assisted by the leading members of the Church throughout the United States. The work contains much valuable and important information for churchmen. It makes an imperial octavo of over eight hundred pages, and is sold only by subscription at $5.

HOWARD GANNETT will publish at once a work entitled "Christian Womanhood," by Mary Pryor Hack, containing admirable sketches of several characters who have become widely known through their Christian labor, work, and writings, such as Frances Ridley Havergal, Mary Fletcher, Mary Hall, Mary Boyles Browne, Elizabeth, last Duchess of Gordon, Harriet Perfect, Mary Ker, Mary Calvert, Anna Backhouse.

THE widow of the late Dr. George W. Bagby, of Richmond, Va., aided by Mr. James McDonald, has undertaken to prepare a volume of selections from the works of her husband. Dr. Bagby, under the nom de plume of "Mosiz Addums," won for himself quite a reputation as a humorist, and was considered by his colleagues and friends one of the most vigorous thinkers of the South. The works will be published by Mrs. Bagby herself.

THE Bible House during the year ending March 31 issued a total of 1,357,051 volumes of Bibles, Testaments, and portions; and when to these are added 451,164 volumes issued in foreign lands, the aggregate, 1,808,215 copies represents the entire circulation of the year. Of this large number 499,379 copies were complete Bibles. The expenditures of the year, $762,106.17, for manufacturing and general purposes, exceeded the receipts by $117,637.10.

WM. T. COMSTOCK will publish, June 1, a work entitled "Cottages; or, Hints on Economical Building," containing twenty-four plates of medium and low-cost houses, contributed by different New York architects, together with descriptive letterpress, giving practical suggestions for cottage building and a chapter on the water supply, drainage, sewerage, heating and ventilation and other sanitary questions relating to country houses, by Wm. Paul Gerhard, compiled and edited by A. W. Brunner.

D. LOTHROP & Co. will publish at once "Old Caravan Days," by Mrs. Mary Hartwell Catherwood, a veritable record, that reads like a romance, of the westward journeyings of a merry household in a "mover's wagon" some forty years ago; "Milly's Little Wanderer," by Mrs. Susie A. Bisbee, full of sprightly incidents and pure and wholesome impressions; and "Margie's Mission," by Marie Oliver, author of "Seba's Discipline," a book well calculated to instruct and benefit every boy and girl who reads it.

CUPPLES, UPHAM & Co. have now ready "One Among Many," by Mrs. H. B. Goodwin, author of "Dr. Howell's Family," etc., the special charm of which is its rich culture and refinement, the result of extensive travel, and its naturalness and truthfulness in picturing this not altogether unromantic life of ours. They have also just ready "Roadside Songs of Tuscany," by Mrs. Francesca Alexander, edited, with a preface, by John Ruskin, a dainty little volume, uniform with the author's "Story of Ida."

JOAQUIN MILLER has lately finished an original poem as an accompaniment to Dora Wheeler's picture, "Christmas Morning," and Mrs. E. Shaw Forman, whose card verses are so well known, has completed a set of poems with special reference to Mr. Hamilton Gibson's latest designs of the four seasons. A frieze design of singing children, by Alexander Sandier, is among Prang's forthcoming publications, and will be issued both singly and in book form, with appropriate carols. A longer poem by Joaquin Miller, illustrative of wedded happiness, is in preparation.

MARCUS WARD & Co., Limited, have published a new Bible text-book, entitled "Bible Immortelles," the text being for mourners. It was compiled by the author of "Morning and Night Watches." The book is tastefully gotten up in two styles of bindings, plain black cloth with colored insides and illuminated end pieces, and white forel with colored insides, illuminated end pieces, and gilt edges. On the left-hand page is an appropriate text for each morning and on the right a text for the evening. The texts are inclosed by illuminated wreaths of immortelles.

P. BLAKISTON, SON & Co. have published Woakes's work on "Catarrh and Diseases of the Nose causing Deafness;" the fifth edition of Roberts's "Practice of Medicine," which has been subjected to careful and thorough revision by the author, many chapters having been entirely rewritten, while important alterations and additions have been made throughout; Yeo's "Manual of Physiology," a text-book for students, with over 300 illustrations in the text; and Quiz-Compend No. 10, "Organic Chemistry, including Medical Chemistry, Urine Analysis, and Analysis of Water, Air, Food, etc.," by Henry Leffmann, M.D.

JOHN EDMANDS, of the Philadelphia Mercantile Library, has prepared an interesting and timely collection of "Reading Notes on Wycliffe." The pamphlet (12 pages) comprises a bibliography of the subject, and gives such notes and references as will be found helpful by those who wish to post themselves on the work and history of the man, the fifth centennial of whose death will be celebrated during the present year. Mr. Edmands also sends out a proof of an English bibliography of "Dies Irae," divided under the subjects of text, authorship and criticism, and translations. To this he invites additions and corrections from those who have the material to supply omissions or furnish additional references, as he wishes to make the bibliography as accurate and complete as possible before printing.

ROBERT CLARKE & Co., as already noted, have in press an American edition of "Cook's Synopsis of the [Chess] Openings," one feature of which will be a supplement containing the fresh analysis that has come into notice during the last two or three years. It is especially desired to give all American openings or important American variations in the old openings. The supplement will also have a list of chess clubs in the United States and Canada, with such information about them as can be obtained. Communications on these subjects will be received with thanks by the chess editor of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette. The text of "Cook's Synopsis" will be presented exactly as it stands in the third and latest edition, now out of print. It is hoped that the additions will give the book a new value for America.

CASSELL & Co. will publish at once "Day-Dawn in Dark Places; or, Wanderings and Work in Bechwanaland, South Africa," by the Rev. John Mackenzie, tutor of Moffat Institution, Kuruman, an interesting book of African travel and of African life; "Arminius Vambery: His Life and Adventures," written by himself, giving a narrative of travels and adventures in Asia and Europe; and "Cassell's Illustrated Guide to Paris." The map, which is an important feature of this volume, has been specially engraved for this guide, showing all the principal public buildings in such a manner as to render them clearly recognizable at a glance. The routes of the principal omnibuses and railroads are traced in red. The starting-points of each are printed in large red letters, so that the visitor can, without difficulty, make his way from one given point in the city to another without the slightest difficulty.

ESTES & LAURIAT have in preparation, "Masterpieces of Modern German Art," by Fred. H. Allen, a most unique and interesting work which embraces the best representations of the modern schools of both German and Austrian art. The author has personally visited more than one hundred of the leading artists, among whom may be mentioned Meyer von Bremen, Wagner, Defregger, Werner, Mensel, and Müller—in fact, all the most prominent ones in Munich, Berlin, Dresden, Düsseldorf, Stuttgart, and Karlsruhe, securing from each that specimen of his work by which he wished to be represented to the American people. The work will be illustrated in a sumptuous manner, with more than one hundred large photogravures—some of them handsomely colored—and thirteen etchings, besides finely engraved woodcut portraits of each artist. The size will be 12x17, which will permit the use of much larger plates than are usually contained in such publications. The work, which will be sold only by subscription, will be issued in 25 folio parts, each containing four or more plates.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS will shortly publish "The Hollanders in Nova Zembla, 1596-1597" an arctic poem translated from the Dutch of Hendrik Tollens, by the Rev. Daniel Van Pelt, with a preface and an historical introduction by Samuel Richard Van Campen, author of "The Dutch in the Arctic Seas," etc. The poem is one of the standard epics of Dutch literature, and the translation, which is both faithful and spirited, will, it is believed, be found of interest to many American readers. They have also nearly ready "The Life and Times of Gustavus Adolphus," by the Hon. John L. Stephens, recently United States Minister at Stockholm, who has had opportunities to examine the Swedish archives, and who has secured on some doubtful points in the history of Gustavus information which it is believed has not previously come into history. The work will in some ways form a companion volume to Gindely's "History of the Thirty Years' War," which the same firm are about to publish, and which gives a view of the achievements of Gustavus from the German standpoint. It will contain a new portrait.

IT now appears that the author of "Vestiges of the Natural History of Creation," was the late Dr. Robert Chambers. The work, which was first published nearly a generation ago, advocated the theory of evolution with great literary skill and considerable scientific knowledge, and was violently attacked by Christian apologetes. Though it passed through many editions and many thousand copies of it were sold, the author was unknown, and the guesses at the authorship were as varied as they were numerous. The secret is now disclosed by one of the four persons who ever knew it, Mr. Alexander Ireland, in a preface to a new edition of the book.

MACMILLAN & Co. are about to publish, under the title of "Investigations in Currency and Finance," an important collection of papers by the late Mr. Stanley Jevons. It will contain his admirable statistical studies of commercial fluctuations, a paper "On the Condition of the Gold Coinage," and a group of papers on bimetallism, giving his latest views on that disputed question. Some of the papers, together with an elaborate "Bibliography of Works relating to Money," are now published for the first time, and the rest were practically inaccessible to the general reader. New matter has been added to several, and the work is illustrated by twenty diagrams including two large statistical charts. The collection was commenced by Mr. Jevons himself in 1882, and has been completed and edited, with an introduction, by Prof. H. S. Foxwell.

BOOKS WANTED.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," subscribers are entitled to a free insertion of five lines, exclusive of address, in each issue. Repeated matter, however, must be charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Copy for this Department must reach us Wednesday Evening to be in time for insertion in same week's issue.

It is desirable to receive copy in shape ready for the printer, viz.: first, headline—name and address—then, titles in separate lines (see below), all written on detached slips, or at the bottom of letter, or on postal card. Compliance with this request will secure accurate and prompt insertion.

In answering, please state edition, condition, and price.

Will Publish Wednesday, June 4:

PHŒBE.

A Novel. By the author of "Rutledge." 1 vol., 16mo, $1.25.

A new story by the popular author of "Rutledge" cannot fail of a hearty welcome from a large circle of readers. It is American in scene and characters, including a plot and incidents not unfamiliar; and is told with a vigor and ease which characterize the practised story-teller, and which command attention and win confidence. It is so much a story of the present that it requires no effort to appreciate the situations, incidents, and characters; and at the same time it is written with so much life and spirit that it is certain to be one of the most widely read of the novels the summer will bring.

THE AMERICAN HORSEWOMAN.

By ELIZABETH KARR. Illustrated. 1 vol., 12mo, $2.

Mrs. Karr has written this book out of ample experience; she knows thoroughly every point on which she speaks, and her book contains the fullest and most minute instructions in regard to every conceivable point relating to horsemanship; the selection and management of a horse, all the details of equipment, every separate article of dress that the rider should wear, and the making of it—all these are described specifically; and the book is made still more useful by cuts, the whole forming a manual of great value to any lady who would become thoroughly accomplished and skilful in the equestrian art.

SUMMER.

From the Journals of H. D. THOREAU, author of "Walden," "Cape Cod," etc. With a Map of Concord. 1 vol., 12mo, gilt top, $1.50.

The many admirers of Thoreau will give this book a very hearty greeting. It comprises selections from his Journals containing his observations and reflections during the summers of many years. Some of these are descriptive, with that fine photographic accuracy which marks Thoreau's pictures of natural scenes, no less in this and in the previous volume from his Journals, "Early Spring in Massachusetts," than in "Walden," and the many admirable essays published during his life. Other passages contain those subtle reflections on society, religion, laws, literature, which also characterize whatever Thoreau wrote, and which pique the curiosity and stimulate the minds of his readers. The book has a full Index, and a Map of Concord.

JUST PUBLISHED:

A ROMAN SINGER.

A Novel. By F. MARION CRAWFORD, author of "Mr. Isaacs," "Dr. Claudius," and "To Leeward." 1 vol., 16mo, $1.25.

Of all Mr. Crawford's works the most interesting, captivating, and masterly is "A Roman Singer."—The Week (Toronto).

"Marvellous for its freshness, vivacity, and vivid portrayal of Italian life, the best work and the highest flight of fancy Mr. Crawford has yet reached."—Providence Journal.

GOVERNMENT REVENUE.

Especially the American System: An Argument for Industrial Freedom against the Fallacies of Free Trade. By ELLIS H. ROBERTS. 1 vol., 12mo, $1.50.

For four years Mr. Roberts was a member of the Committee of Ways and Means in Congress, and studied the whole subject of Government revenue thoroughly. It is believed that his treatment of it in this book is so full, so able, and so fair-minded that it will not only form a very important aid to understanding the Tariff question as now presented to the country for consideration, but will be a standard work on the subject.

"An important contribution to economic science. The argument in favor of protection has not been presented in a dogmatic way, as a logical and necessary deduction from ingenious theories assumed by book-writers to be of universal application. The conclusions have been based upon the actual experience of nations, and especially of the American people."—N. Y. Tribune.

AT HOME IN ITALY.

By E. D. R. BIANCIARDI. 16mo, $1.25.

A charming book giving the experiences and observations of an American lady who has lived in Italy for many years. As a book of travel and description it will please many, while the author's Italian life lends much practical value to its suggestions for those who wish to reside temporarily in Italy.

NOW READY:

ORPHEUS C. KERR'S NEW NOVEL.

1. There Was Once a Man. A Story. By ROBERT H. NEWELL ("ORPHEUS C. KERR"). 530 pp., illustrated, $1.50. No. 6 of Our Continent Library.

It is many years since "Orpheus C. Kerr" has appeared among book-makers, and this time it is with a novel which bears out the prophets of better things from him. The critical Round Table of twenty ago said: "His constructive skill, his dramatic effect, his satirical insight, his fervid descriptions of scenes of grandeur and of horror; his humor, wit, pathos—the depths of passion, of sympathy, even of tenderness—the combination of these attests a more universal genius, a larger nature, than we supposed was to be found among American novelists."

The old qualities are here, and something more and better.

2. A Palace-Prison; or, THE PAST AND THE PRESENT. A Novel. 350 pp., cloth, $1.

A book of uncommon interest. The charming girl, whose fortunes and misfortunes are the theme, traces a line of experience that may be of vital importance to any household, and is vibrating the hearts of many more homes than is generally known. The right and the wrong treatment of mental sufferers, an interior view of asylums, written from the inside, is something that Americans cannot afford to neglect. The book will be read and disputed; but it cannot be controverted.

A GREAT SUCCESS!

"Bristling with Thorns."

A STORY OF WAR AND RECONSTRUCTION.

By Col. O. T. BEARD.

Illustrated with Original Engravings. 12mo, 424 pages, extra cloth.

From the Times-Democrat, New Orleans, May 11, 1884.

Something savoring of effrontery is there in the sending of this volume—reeking with the ooze and slime and malignant exhalations of the Northern outrage mill—to a Southern newspaper for comment and expression of opinion! Calling itself "a Story of War and Reconstruction," it is a story only in the sense that it bristles with atrocious falsehoods, foul slanders, contemptible and unmanly misrepresentations, and the most bitter, vicious, and wilful calumnies, which the author and his publishers seek to disseminate in an age and time when sectional prejudice, unreasoning strife, and the conflicting passions of a score of years ago are all but rocked asleep in the brave bosoms of the actual participants in the struggle that rent the Union, and in the hearts of the wisest and most humane of its directors and controllers who survive on either side. The few grains of truth, of correct local coloring, that may exist at the bottom of this well of iniquity, are choked and stifled by the mephitic vapors and poison-laden air overtopping and encompassing them. One O. T. Beard announces himself as the author of this disreputable work, the suppression of the entire edition of which would reflect credit upon the morals, conscience, and judgment of the publishers.

Franklin and Hawley Streets, Boston.

AMERICAN EXPLORATIONS IN THE ICE ZONES.

By Prof. J. E. NOURSE, U.S.N. 550 pp., with circumpolar map. $3.50.

This volume furnishes an authentic record of all that can interest the general reader in connection with the efforts put forth under American auspices, and by American explorers, to solve the problems presented in the North and South Polar regions. The author, Prof. J. E. Nourse of the United States Naval Observatory, a man of rare scientific attainments, has brought to the work superior qualifications, having been the official historian of previous expeditions. While chiefly descriptive of the honorable record of American Arctic explorations, from the date of the first Grinnel Expedition to the thrilling history of the ill-fated Jeannette, it includes a brief, but most satisfactory, sketch of the early explorations of the English and other nations.

The volume has numerous illustrations of the labors of the explorers, with a large circumpolar map in three colors, showing the routes and highest positions reached in each hemisphere. Altogether the book is one of the most intensely interesting, as well as timely, of recent publications, and in its special field must be regarded as a standard work.

LIFE OF OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.

By E. E. BROWN. 12mo, $1.50.

There have been few among recent additions to biographical literature more welcome than the delightfully entertaining story of the life of the author of "The Autocrat of the Breakfast-Table," as told by E. E. Brown in this attractive volume.

The man and the writer are distinctly portrayed, and in a manner so discriminating and appreciative as to leave little to be desired. Great value is added to the book by the fact that it has the sanction of Doctor Holmes, who has furnished to its author a most interesting fund of fresh material.

FAR FROM HOME.

V. I. F. Series. By JOHANNES VON DERVAL. Translated by Katharine Hamilton. 12mo, $1.50.

Is an exceptionally pleasing story. It is marked by vivacity and originality, and its characters, from handsome and mischievous Clotilde to pretty Elsie, including their pensioner father, Colonel von Seestern, and the kindly Frau von Seestern, are admirably drawn. The adventures of Clotilde are most entertainingly described, while the pictures of life in Spain, incidentally given, are charming. The translator has done her work with great faithfulness, and the book is a pleasing addition to the famous V. I. F. Series.

SOLDIER AND SERVANT is a really fascinating story of girl life at home and at school, in which Miss Ella M. Baker gives proof of her ability to do most acceptable and creditable work as an author. Lisle Knight, the heroine, is a character drawn with great naturalness, and possessed of traits which will win for her the love and admiration of all readers. In her school life, which is invested with a rare interest, there are touches of humor, and graphic descriptions which are worthy of comparison with passages in "Tom Brown at Rugby." 12mo, $1.25.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH PAPERS FOR GIRLS.

By MARY J. SAFFORD, M.D., Professor of Boston University, and MARY E. ALLEN, Superintendent of Ladies' and Children's Gymnasium, Boston, will be found an enlightening and stimulating book, written in bright, vigorous style, for mothers and daughters, with hints for safe gymnastic exercise. 60 cents.

COOKERY FOR BEGINNERS.

with Marion Harland's name as author, needs no other indication of its character and genuine value. It has been a fault of previous books on cookery that they have taken for granted the possession of a certain degree of knowledge requisite to their successful use, not always possessed. This book, while affording a range of information unsurpassed by any other book, and thus suited to the use of all, has the advantage of being perfectly adapted to the needs of the veriest tyros in cookery. 12mo, $1.

OUR BUSINESS BOYS; or, What Eighty-three Business Men Say.

By Rev. F. E. CLARK. 16mo, cloth, 60 cents.

Is a unique and valuable little volume, in which Rev. F. E. Clark has summarized the opinions of eminent business men as to the conditions of success which must be observed by boys entering business. We have a chapter on the "Secrets of Success," one on "Rocks of Danger," and another on "The Little Virtues." Mr. Clark condenses many lessons in the motto, "Find out what you are fitted for; work hard at that one thing, and keep an honest heart." There can be no better motto (or book) for boys on the threshold of the great world of business.

RIGHT TO THE POINT is a volume which, if it were entitled "Dr. Cuyler's Best Sayings," would need no other introduction. "Right to the Point," however, aptly describes one of the chief characteristics of the telling utterances which fall from the lips of this beloved and useful Brooklyn pastor, and is a good title. Rev. Newman Hall furnishes an appreciative introduction, which is followed by a brief but complete biography of Dr. Cuyler. 12mo, $1.

PLEASANT AUTHORS FOR YOUNG FOLKS.

Little Biographies. First Series. 16mo, illustrated, $1.

The fascinating interest characteristic of the previous works of the author, Amanda B. Harris, distinguish this volume, which presents biographies of Sir Walter Scott, Charles Lamb, Leigh Hunt, Dr. John Brown, Mary Russell Mitford, and others. Especially intended for young people.

It is a delightful guide-book of standard authors and standard literature.

AN ENDLESS CHAIN. By PANSY. Like all of her books, is wholesome, sparkling, and in brief, characterized by all of the attractiveness which distinguishes the writings of this favorite author. 12mo, $1.50.

THE GREAT COMPOSERS. by HEZEKIAH BUTTERWORTH, editor of the Youth's Companion, fully illustrated with portraits and drawings by F. H. Lungen, is a concise history of the development of music and musical instruments, with biographies of the most celebrated composers. $1.

THE TRAVELLING LAW SCHOOL AND FAMOUS TRIALS.

by BENJAMIN VAUGHAN ABBOTT, LL.D., is an excellent book for home reading, especially in families where there are boys, as it renders simple and clear the foundations of national, State, and town government, also the legal regulations of ordinary business. A capital book for supplementary reading in schools. $1.

A HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.

By ARTHUR GILMAN, M.A. 12mo, cloth, illustrated. $1.50, same, 8vo, cloth, illustrated, gilt top, $2.50.

The remarkable success of Mr. Arthur Gilman's "History of the American People" is indicated by the fact that the first edition was exhausted within sixty days, and that the second, just issued, promises to find as speedy a sale. The favor with which it is received is shown by comments like the following:

"We have nothing as good, and are not likely to have," says the very critical editor of the New York Independent.

"The most attractive one-volume history of the United States that we have seen."—Boston Literary World.

"Nothing better exists as a compendium of our country's history," says the editor of the Boston Transcript, in the course of a long and careful review.

ECHOES FROM HOSPITAL AND WHITE HOUSE.

is a record of Mrs. Rebecca R. Pomroy's Experience in War-times. By ANNA L. BOYDEN. The noble and heroic services of this accomplished Christian woman, whose remains were only the other day laid to rest with impressive ceremonies at Mt. Auburn, cannot fail to be of deepest interest to all readers, and especially to the veterans of the Army of the Potomac. 12mo, $1.25.
